

PEACH DAY WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Hospitality Unbounded and Everybody Enjoyed Holiday To the Limit.

PEACHES OF TWO VARIETIES

Governor Spry Praised Both in His Address to the Assembled Hosts and Guests.

(Special to The News.)—Brigham City, Sept. 5.—Peach day, Brigham City's annual fête, is now passed, but the memory of the event will linger long in the hearts of the thousands who were in attendance. The day was even a greater success than its predecessors have been. The handling of the vast crowds was done with skill and the conveniences afforded were the fruits of long and systematic preparation.

Hundreds of bushels of fine Elberta peaches were given to the visitors, each incoming train being met at the depot by scores of Brigham's most attractive animated peaches who presented samples of the Boxelder fruit to the guests of the day. Each peach was wrapped in a circular telling several pertinent facts regarding the northern end of the state. The circulars read:

"Welcome, welcome everybody! Welcome to Brigham, the beautiful-to-Brigham, the 'city of homes'—to Brigham, the greatest peach town of the west."

"Our peaches have sent out 400 straight carloads of peaches this season."

"We have sent thousands of boxes by express and hundreds of wagonloads in addition."

"Our peaches go to every part of the United States."

"Our scientists and our peaches say that our soil and climate produce the best fruit in the world."

"It has been said: 'The Lord might have made a better fruit than the peach but he didn't.'"

"The Elberta peach has made Brigham famous."

"Brigham has now unlimited demand for her peaches, which has doubled the value of our peach lands in the past five years. During the next five years the average will be doubled again by the same means by the increased demand for her product."

"Peach lands now sell for about $1,000 per acre. Next year they will sell for $1,500 per acre. Better buy now. Net returns per acre, $500."

"This wrapper contains an ordinary sample of our Elberta. Eat it with our comments and remember us as the growers of 'The Best Peach in the World.'"

PRIZE-WINNING FRUIT.

The fruit display and the award of prizes attracted big crowds all day.

The awards made were as follows:

Twenty cases of Elberta peaches—First prize $15, won by Mrs. A. L. Briggs; second prize $10, won by R. L. Fishburn and Sons.

Five cases of Elberta peaches—First prize $5, won by Charles P. Anderson; second prize $2.50, won by A. L. Briggs.

One case of Elberta peaches—First prize $3, won by Edwin Peterson; second prize $1.50, won by Irene Isaacson.

Best one case of any variety—First prize $2, won by N. P. Nelson; second prize $1, won by the Valentine Fruit company.

The best display of all kinds of fruit—First prize $15, won by the Bear River Fruitgrowers' association; second prize $10, won by the same company.

The best commercial packed five cases—First prize $5, won by Leo Hansen; second prize $4, won by the Brigham City Fruitgrowers' association.

The prizes were offered by the Boxelder Commercial club and the Brigham City Fruitgrowers' association.

The manner in which the crowds were handled by the Oregon Short Line Railroad company is deserving of special mention for the service throughout the day, both the handling of the incoming and the outgoing crowds, was up to every requirement and free from vexatious delays too often encountered on big excursions. No accidents occurred during the entire affair.

UNBOUNDED HOSPITALITY.

To the good people of Brigham City the credit is due for a display of true hospitality. Committees were on hand everywhere to make the day pleasant for the guests. Nobody was overlooked and everybody was satisfied.

STAUNCH FRIENDS OF PE-RU-NA. "TUNNEL DAY" ON LONG ISLAND

Grandmothers and Grandfathers Who Believe in Pe-ru-na

"I can recommend Peru-na as a good medicine for chronic catarrh of the stomach and bowels. I have been troubled with it severely for over a year, and also a cough."

"Now my cough is all gone, and all the distressing symptoms of catarrh of the stomach and bowels have disappeared."

"I will recommend it to all as a rare remedy."—Mrs. F. E. Little, Tolono, Ill.

"I had catarrh of the stomach, bowels and lower internal organs. Had a great deal of pain in my right hip, which felt like rheumatism. Also pain in my internal organs. The water was highly colored, my back was weak, was constipated, and very restless."

"I commenced to take Peru-na according to directions, and began to improve. I have taken ten bottles of Peru-na and think I am cured."—Mr. W. C. Hemphill, Louisville, Miss.

"The annual fête will long be remembered as one of the most successful events ever held here."

"The line of march was arranged so that the parade ended at the corner of Main and Forest streets, where a speakers' stand and band stand had been erected. State and city officials took this stand, from which Mayor Thomas H. Blackburn delivered his address of welcome, turning the town over to the guests for the day. Mayor Blackburn was introduced by Frank W. Fishburn, one of Brigham's prominent business men, and active in the commercial and political life of the city. Mr. Fishburn also introduced Gov. Spry, saying:

"It is common, when a governor visits any city, town or hamlet of his domain, for the executive to talk to the populace. It is just as common for him to declare that municipally, regardless of its merits, to be the leading, the most desirable place in his state."

"By the untiring efforts of the Boxelder Commercial club and its affiliated organizations, we believe, however, that we have made it possible for the governor to repeat these things today, and at the same time devote not a hair's breadth from the truth."

Gov. Spry declared that all things said by Mr. Fishburn were true.

GOVERNOR SAW TWO KINDS.

"Brigham has peaches and peaches," said the governor, "and looking at the first variety of her peaches—those to which the day is commemorated—I must concur with Mr. Fishburn. Then, seeing the peaches which are grown in Boxelder county's orchards, I look upon the other variety, the peaches which are today bedecked in their Sunday best, their heads garnished with flowers, and I think that with all their endeavors at elaboration, they can make no improvement on the original. I am also more firmly convinced that there is nowhere else, not only in Utah, but on earth, where residence would be so desirable as in Boxelder county."

"And when I look at you fellows, whom I have known when you were playing politics, and see how much more successful you are as fruit growers than as politicians, I am again convinced that there is infinitely more money to be made from fruit growing than from politics, and I am again tempted to move to Brigham and take up the culture of fruit."

JUSTICE FRICK'S TALK.

Supreme Justice J. E. Frick followed the governor, indorsing the utterances of the executive, declaring that his reason for not making a speech were two-fold. First, he said, the governor had taken his words from his mouth and left him "ditched, mired, with an empty wagon." He remarked in a jesting manner that the dignity of the supreme court would not permit him to go around over the country making speeches.

"There is a reason which has kept me from becoming a Brigham citizen before this. That reason is, that the mandate of the state's chief executive is that the officers of the supreme court of the state remain at Salt Lake. A supreme justice has to sort of look after these smaller things, and the governor insisting that Salt Lake be my residence, must obtain. But it will probably be that the governor will not always be able to dictate where my residence shall be, and when that time comes, look for me at Brigham."

The Indian dance did not materialize, and the crowd had its choice of attending the dance in the Academy of Music, taking in the ball game between an all-star team from Salt Lake and the Wallsville Invincibles, or spending the afternoon in the pleasant park surrounding the court house.

Passenger Service Installed This Morning Through Pennsylvania Tubes.

FIRST TRAIN EXACTLY ON TIME

Suburban Points on Long Island Brought 25 Minutes Nearer Heart of Manhattan.

New York, Sept. 5.—Regular passenger service through the new Pennsylvania tunnels between New York city and Long Island began today. The occasion is being celebrated as "Tunnel day" all over Long Island. The tunnel improvements bring suburban points throughout Long Island about 25 minutes nearer to the heart of Manhattan than heretofore.

The first regular train through the new tubes left the big Pennsylvania terminal at Seventh avenue and Thirty-second street, exactly on schedule time—3:41 o'clock this morning. There were no special ceremonies connected with the departure of the train and it carried only about its usual number of passengers.

The first incoming train to enter the new terminal arrived from Jamaica, L. I., at 4:39 o'clock. The 12-mile trip from Jamaica was made in 19 minutes. Yesterday the trip would have taken a commuter about 30 minutes, allowing for time spent on the ferry and the car lines.

SPIKE AND RAIL.

Officials Return—The railroad officials and attorneys who came to Salt Lake to attend the hearings in the Salt Lake rate case before the interstate commerce commission, have returned to their respective homes.

R. W. Flandro, contracting freight agent of the Denver & Rio Grande, has returned from a trip to San Francisco.

A. C. Bondy, traveling freight agent of the Lake Shore road at Cleveland, is in Salt Lake on a business trip.

One Week More—The Yellowstone special on the Short Line will be taken off September 15. Excursion business to the park has been heavy this season.

Planning Extensions—The Denver & Northwestern railway company, operating a line from Denver north to Greeley, Colo., projects extensions aggregating 200 miles to the coal field of Elk mountain, in Wyoming. The plans for extensions beyond Elk mountain have also been made.

Oregon Interior Roads—Amended articles of incorporation, filed by the Oregon Trunk railway, show that the interior of Oregon is to be covered by lines extending from a connection with the Spokane, Portland & Seattle near Celilo, on the Columbia, south along the Deschutes river to Klamath Falls, and a branch line west to Medford, and another one southeasterly through Crook county into Harney county in eastern Oregon.

H. W. Clarke, vice president and general manager of the Denver & Rio Grande, is expected to arrive in Salt Lake City this afternoon on a business trip.

Organize Friday—A meeting of the Railroad Men's Traffic club will be held in the Commercial club rooms Friday evening at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization of the club, and acting upon the names presented by the nominating committee as officers of the club. A full attendance of railroad men is desired.

Parts of the sections included are found to contain no coal, but those portions which contain coal have been increased in price to $15 per acre, on account of their lying within 15 miles of a railroad. About half the township is found to be non-coal land.

The local land office has received notice of the withdrawal of 20,360 acres of coal lands, including sections in eight townships in Morgan, Rich and Summit counties. The order is Utah withdrawal No. 2 and was signed by the president Aug. 24.
